Two County Water Corp. Receive Loans For New Systems

The Farmers Home Administration has closed a water facility loan for the community of Baileyville and awarded the North Milam Water Supply Corporation a loan for construction of a community water system.

Baileyville's insured loan funds were provided by the Planters National Bank of Rosebud under the FHA insured loan program. The loan was closed Wednesday.

Local FHA administrator Henry Ivey said North Milam Water Supply Corporation has been awarded a $175,000 loan. Bids for the new system to serve the Ben Arnold-Burlington area will be opened at his office in Cameron at 2 p.m. February 5. Two contracts will be let. One for the well drilling and a second for the construction of a storage system. As soon as the bids are opened a contract will be awarded to the well driller with work to begin immediately.

Upon the testing and approval of the water, the board will close the loan and work orders will be given.

The North Milam Water system will serve 127 rural families. The system will consist of a 50,000 main storage tank and 28 miles of pipe.

BAILEYVILLE SYSTEM

Baileyville's loan is for $17,607 and the corporation will furnish an equity in the amount of $930. The corporation equity represents deposits made by the twelve members of the corporation.

While the facility will serve only 12 families to begin with, it has the capacity to serve up to 30 families.

The system is complete with 5,000 gallon ground storage and filtering system. The well has been drilled and the water tested by the State Dept. of Health to meet standards of the department and has already been accepted by the officers of the corporation. Engineers estimate construction to be completed in two months.

The Baileyville loan is the third such loan closed in Milam County.

On Five Committees

Rep. To Introduce Judicial Dist. Bill

The appointment of State Representative Milton Schiller to five major committees and his intention to introduce a new bill concerning the 20th Judicial District, was reported to The Herald Tuesday.

Rep. Schiller said he will introduce a new bill this week to remove Robertson County from the 85th Judicial District and combine it with Milam County in Judge William Wallace's 20th Judicial District.

The representative said his reason for introducing such a bill is the similar interests between the two counties and it would also add population to this area and keep the district court in this area.

Rep. Schiller, one of 45 second term members in the House, was named chairman of the Contingent Expense Committee during committee appointments Monday. He was one of 14 of the 45 members appointed chairman of a committee.

He was also appointed to four additional committees which were noted as being of vital interest to the Milam County area.

Rep. Schiller will serve on the Revenue and Taxation Committee one of the most powerful committees in the house. Agricultural Committee; Livestock and Cattle Raising Committee; and the Rules Committee. The Rules Committee was noted as being another powerful committee. It is the speakers committee that controls the rules of the House.

The 45th District representative is also co-sponsor of a bill introduced earlier this week. The bill, if passed, will require all imported beef to be so labeled with the name of the country of origin.

Football Banquet Draws Over 300

The banquet was held at Methodist Fellowship Hall and honored the 75 Yoe High School players.

Booster Club president Albert McCullin Jr. presented the trophy which annually goes to the player selected as the most valuable to his team. It was the second consecutive year for Perrin to be named recipient of the honor.

Co-captains Dennis Jistel, Larry Paul Manley and Perrin crowned Miss Darby Football Sweetheart. She was selected by the players who nominated three candidates. Miss Becky Graham and Sharon Darby were also candidates.

Guest speaker for the banquet was Buddy Dial of the Dallas Cowboys. Dial, former all-American and all-pro, told the crowd that there were very few things that anyone could guarantee in this world. However, he stated, he relied on the 3 D's of Success.

Dial's 3 D's were:

1. Desire: one quality that an athlete must have which can overcome size, speed and ability and make them no particular barrier.

2. Determination: quoting an outstanding player, Bobby Layne, who he said never lost a single game time just ran out on him. But he never lost his determination, Dial noted.

3. De-Faith: a player must have faith in God, faith in his teammates, faith in his friends and most important, have the ability to pray.

"With these three D's, a person can do anything," Dial said.

Other highlights of the evening were the presentation of gifts to head coach George Kirk, assistants Ken Fuqua, Andy Springer, Bud Busher and football game announcer Gene Smitherman. The gifts of appreciation were presented by the Yoe team captains. (See sports related story)

Flood Damage Reported Light

Water level of Little River, San Gabriel and small creeks in Milam County was still subsiding Wednesday and cattle losses were reported to be light considering the flash flooding last Friday. The unexpected rains brought rivers out of their banks and stranded livestock in many areas of the County.

Little River was reported to be 8.80 feet Wednesday, about six feet higher than normal, according to Water Supt Alvin Hefft. The river topped its flow capacity of 30 feet by an additional six feet, forcing water to cover a span of land over a mile wide and running into the city limits. Hefft said the river measured 36.27 at 10:30 p.m. Friday and by midnight had begun subsiding.

San Gabriel River, Brushy Creek and Elm Creek also went over their banks and seven farm-to-market roads were closed as from 4.66 to 6 inches of rain fell over the area.

Milam County Sheriff Carl Black said farmers reporting to him noted very little loss of livestock considering the serious flooding conditions. He had reports of about 100 head of livestock being lost in the flood waters.

Asst. Milam County Agent Chas. Henson reported little damage done to crops due to the time the rain fell. Grassland and some feed were the only things planted.

One man, Nelson Davis of Sharp, was trapped Friday by high water on his farm eight miles south of Salem in Milam County. He took refuge in a tree for about four hours until he was rescued by a San Gabriel team in a boat.

Three Cameronites, who were helping remove cattle from a flooded area, were stranded when the battery on their boat failed. The trio, Harvey Kimbrel, Jimmy Thompson and Joe Humplik Jr., were rescued about two hours later by Sheriff Black.

The rains totaled 4.66 inches in Cameron, according to the water Dept. About six inches of rain was recorded in the Jones Prairie area.

Flooding conditions were the worst since 1957, officials said.

Buddy Fuller said that a voter must pay his city poll taxes and also his county poll taxes in order to be able to vote in the city election.

Three council positions will be up for election this spring. They are the posts held by E. L. Wied, Starrett Hickman and Jimmy Marek.

Intruders Swipe Narcotics, Coins Clothes In Breakins

Unidentified burglars in unrelated break-ins the past week took about $100.00 worth of narcotics from New Cameron Drug, some clothes from a local home and about $25 in collectors coins from a church.

Chief Elvin Hoskins reported some good fingerprints had been taken following a break in early Tuesday at New Cameron Drug. An unknown intruder took about $100 in narcotics, Hoskins said.

Wednesday morning, an unknown person apparently walked into the home of Logan McWilliams, 710 E. Eighth St., while he was working in a shop behind the house, took some of his son's clothes, drank some milk from the refrigerator and walked out.

And a week ago Monday, about $25 in collectors coins, with a face value of $3.60, was missing from the office desk of the Rev. James Lafferty, pastor of the Cameron First Baptist Church.

He said the coins had been taken from a box in his desk after the church had been entered. The intruder jimmied door locks to enter.

Chief Hoskins said none of the incidents was connected.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

100 Stockmen At Local Meeting

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

U. D. Thompson, specialist in livestock nutrition from A&M discussed cattle feed requirements. He emphasized the need for considering both quantity and quality of hay since both factors play an important roe in the improvement of beef production. They influence the ability of cows to conceive and assist her in the development and delivering of a normal healthy calf. Calves will weigh more at weaning from cows receiving enough roughage of high quality to supply needed nutrients. He further pointed out that until more high quality hay is made available to cattle, cattlemen will need to continue to feed protein supplements and minerals.

BRUCELLOSIS TESTING

Dr. J. F. Sousares, area veterinarian with the USDA animal disease eradication program told of plans for testing cattle in Milam County. He indicated that it would likely be the latter part of March before the testing program would start and he predicted that it would take about 6 months to test the County.

Dr. Sousares told stockment that it would be permissible for them to test their cattle now but they would have to pay the cost. The law states that cattle must have been tested withing 60 days of the initial starting date of the program.

When the program starts, there will be no cost to the stockman for testing and vaccinating cattle.

John Batte, chairman of the Milam County Livestock Improvement program presented the Milam County Extension Staff a certificate of appreciation for dedicated service in behalf of the South west Screwworm Eradication program.

All citizens or residents of the United States, including minor children, who had gross incomes of $600 or more in 1964, must file a federal income tax return, R. L. Phinney, district director of Internal Revenue Service in Austin announced to day.

If the taxpayer is 65 or over before Jan. 1, 1955, he is not required to file unless his gross income for 1964 was at least $1,200.

Battleground of Justice

Truth emerges, Historian Macaulay once said, "when two men argue as unfairly as possible on opposite sides."

For the moment, let's disregard that word "unfairly." Otherwise, Macaulay put his finger on the essential nature of a typical modern trial. The courtroom is a battleground. The role of the lawyers is not lofty neutrality but frank partisanship. They are not only their clients' advisers but also their champions.

Technically, this is known as the "adversary system" of justice. Far from deploring conflict, it actually relies on it. Just as the haggling of buyer and seller tends to produce a fair price, just as the bickering of liberal and conservative tends to produce a good government, so does the clash of opposing counsel tend to produce a wise judgment. A judge can do his job properly, wrote the late Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, "only with the light afforded by a real contest."

Of course, there are limits. The lawyer who argues "unfairly" -- for example, by using documents that he knows are fake or testimony that he knows is false -- is flagrantly violating his duty as an officer of the court. He is also flagrantly violating the Canons of Ethics of the legal profession.

But that doesn't mean that opposing attorneys cannot, in all sincerity, offer sharply different versions of the same case to the judge. For facts are elusive. Driving which honestly seemed slow to the defendant motorist may have honestly seemed fast to the plaintiff pedestrian whom he knocked down.

Even when the facts are clear, reactions to those facts may honestly differ. The very same cooking odors, drifting out of a woman's kitchen, may be tantalizing to her own family -- and an offensive nuisance to the people in the next apartment.

Outstanding Cadet To Be Minister

Leslie H. Lofton of Houston has been named the Harrisburg Rotary Club's Junior Rotarian for January from Milby High School.

by High School "Youth for Christ"

Loftin, who is president of Miland commander of its ROTC battalion, is the grandson of Mrs. Lillie Loftin Barrett and nephew of Mrs. Ben Kennon, both of Cameron.

A proficient Military Cadet, Loftin rose to head the crack ROTC drill team and this year won the battalion's outstanding graduating senior award. But he has changed his mind from a military career to that of becoming a minister of the Christian denomination.

The young student plans to take a five-year course leading to a bachelor's degree in thology at Dallas Christian College in Dallas.

His ROTC and religious work take about all the time he has left after school and after his weekend job helping his father, Jack D. Loftin, who's a Chronicle distributor. Young Loftin had his own Chronicle route for five years.

Allen Eugene White received a Master of Arts degree in Mathematics from the University of Texas at the close of the fall semester this month. White is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. White of Baytown and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Malone, Baytown, formerly of Cameron, and the late Alma White of Cameron. He is currently employed with Western Publications, Inc. of Austin.

Follow that truck
(on the road to progress)

You're looking at one of the busiest trucks in the world, especially this year. During 1965, Southwestern Bell's motor fleet will travel millions of miles—from the Rio Grande to the Red River, from the Panhandle to the Gulf Coast—in the biggest construction program ever undertaken. A one-year, $168 million effort to make the world's best telephone service even better. And this means thousands of new jobs among the firms selling supplies, services and materials to the telephone company. You'll benefit directly, too. In cities, on farms, at home, at your office or in your car, you'll be able to call easier and faster in all kinds of weather. Next time you see a telephone truck, take a good look. You'll be looking at rolling proof of a really massive effort to make your telephone serve you better, of more personal value to you.

Yarborough Backs New Education Bill

U. S. Senator Ralph W. Yarborough last week co-sponsored a new education bill in the United State Senate. The bill, Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, would apportion Federal funds to states for distribution to areas of low income, in an effort to raise national education levels by starting in the most troubled areas.

Sen. Yarborough said in his weekly newsletter: 'It is an effort to help the less fortunate children achieve a more equal opportunity for an education. The bill aims to aid pre-school age children attain a language proficiency so that when they reach school age, they will be able to keep up with other children in language understanding."

In other provisions of the bill, Texas would be entitled to $5,099,000 for supplementary education centers and $5,373,000 to add books for school libraries.

Halfback Mike Perrin On High School All-American

Yoe Halfback Mike Perrin has been selected High School All-American by the Coach and Athletic Magazine of Atlanta, Georgia, according to Coach George Kirk.

Perrin, a senior at Yoe High School, was among 109 players representing 47 states in the United States. Four players were selected from Texas, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania, the largest number selected from any state.

The three other Texans selected were Ed. Hargeti, 6', 175 lb. back from Kildare at Linden; Rusty Clarke, 6'3", 205 lb. back from Galena Park; and Don King, tackle at 6'1", 195 lb. from Wichita Falls.

Plaques and certificates will be sent to the All American players.

Coach Kirk said the boys were selected from ballots mailed to all the high school coaches in the 50 states plus sports writers, sportscasters and college recruiters in every section of the nation.

Qualifications are that the boy must be a senior and taken into consideration is their ability to play football, both offensively and defensively, grade average and extra curricular activities.

Perrin, an honor student at Yoe High, has played football four years and lettered three years. He also participates in the school track program.

The All-American honor was the third for Perrin to receive this year. He was previously named to the All Cen-Tex team and last week was named recipient of the Yoe Booster Club's outstanding player award.

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office in Cameron, Texas, under the Act of Congress of March 1, 1879. Published every Thursday.

For Central Planning . . .

What is that popular song? "People Need People."

The Milam Community needs people. While Rockdale, Thorndale and Cameron hold population, the county has a population curve opposite to the population growth curve of Texas since 1900.

Why? It is simple. We cling to the proposition of agriculture economics, when in fact, agriculturally oriented Cameron itself has about a million dollars in annual payroll from industrialized Rockdale. And, in fact, total nonfarm and manufacturing income approaches agriculture income.

Agriculture approximates $12.5 million annually in Milam County. Yet it serves fewer jobs and fewer businesses because of technical change.

Milam stands stronger than most Central Texas Blackland counties. Alcoa and IGC payrolls annually distribute some $7 million. Agriculture's $12.5 circulates more, but, as years pass, through fewer hands.

Milam's farmer is more sophisticated. He seeks better goods and services, and because of heavy pressures on his pocketbook, shops more widely. There is fewer of him. And the Milam business community finds it difficult to meet growing demands in selectivity.

There are surveys, studies and resource material in comparative abundance to document this picture. And until now, numerous efforts have met fragments of our problem.

But individual effort has difficulty in coping with accelerating change. We build streets, roads, hospitals, libraries; we improve schools, water and sewer systems and build new homes; that is, those of us who remain.

What follows is argumentative. But it must be said.

There is a growing demand for growth in the Milam community out of the surviving agriculture operator and salaried and skilled wage earner. It appears that a new middle income group not unlike that overflowing the suburbs of cities, is emerging.

This group, whose resources and interests vary widely, is not satisfied with what is and is willing to work for what can be.

And this is relatively new in Milam County. Long a center of major cotton and small farm output, Milam County and its communities are a disparity of old and new. The cement of American society, a mid-income group, which for almost a generation in Milam County did not exist, takes form.

If this thesis be true, then we can see the direction toward which we must turn. A blending of old and new, with conflicts open, settled and dismissed, can orient around all that is worthwhile in each and have the courage to discard the rest.

President Johnson speaks of the "Great Society;" we speak here of a "reoriented society" which perforce the sweep of events recognizes its own complexity, accepts its defineable differences and forges the growth necessities, perhaps in spite of differences.

One basic decision Cameron has yet to face is whether or not to repose in secure reticence or compete in less certain advancement.

We have money in banks, gobs of it. And we also have minimum economic vigor to hold or attract our young people.

Until now we have sampled both private and public programs, both local and federal, both means to a progressive end.

The fragment, the sampling is not enough. We need a convergence of these parallel movements, which individually have found success, but which collectively are wanting.

Our competition is the city, not across the street. Our needs are accomplishable, not impossible. Our needs are growth, not stalemate. Our needs are complex, not simple.

In short and possibly in controversy, the dynamics of the Milam Community are in fact changed and should take a look left or right to ascertain this fact. Those dynamics are people, who, pardon the allusion, need people.

When these lines converge, they will find so much within reach, for stabilizing growth, that they can enjoy new self discovery.

The direction of our agriculture, all complications considered, is foreward. Most effort, both government and private, is turned to improve Milam agriculture for the competitive and the competent.

Cameron and these other Milam towns and communities can now define fundamental programs for new upturns in employment for the casualty off the farm.

He can be employed, in most cases, and would prefer employment here. He is the substance of the Milam community's necessary industrial aspiration. He is the workforce.

This relationship of farm and industry can evaporate if we let it, if these parallel efforts do not converge, if we do not all strike deaf ears open and leave antiquated misgivings for the historians.

We urge that Cameron, as county seat and as the only chartered city in Milam County, lead off by forming a planning group that will bring our thousands of people into concert for vital development in recreation, industry and employment.

Inauguration Has 'Folksy Flavor'

By Vern anford

AUSTIN -- A goodly share of the 3,000 Texans who went to Washington for Pres. Lyndon Johnson's inauguration went through the same sort of celebration -- on a much smaller scale -- in Austin Monday and Tuesday.

Following Monday's early-afternoon State Democratic Executive Meeting, the round of State Inaugural parties began. One of the best-attended was a reception in the Gondolier Hotel for House Speaker Ben Barnes of DeLeon and Ban Blocker (the "Hoss Cartwright" of Bonanza fame).

Following the solemn ceremony of the swearing-in of Connally and Smith on Tuesday, another round of luncheons and receptions began. Gov. and Mrs. Connally received thousands of visitors at a reception in the Governor's Mansion, across the street from the Capitol.

BILL FILING BEGINS -- First bill filed in the House of Representatives was one by Rep. Maud Isaacks of El Paso -- only woman member in the House. It would allow youngsters 15½ years old to obtain drivers licenses if they pass approved drivers education courses. It's designed also to abolish the special motor scooter and motor bike licenses.

DISTILLED SPIRITS BILL -- A measure which sponsors say will raise $10,000,000 in tax money for the State, during the next two years, has hit the legislative hopper. It is not a liquor by the drink bill. But it would make available to people dining in Texas restaurants tiny, 2-oz. (or less) bottles of distilled spirits.

TEACHER BILL IN -- A bill raising the salary of school teachers $45 a month for each month of the school year was assured of passing in the House. Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, who is sponsoring the measure, invited other House members to sign the bill as co-sponsors. He quickly got more than 80 signatures, a majority of the House members.

Bill probably will have easy sailing in the Senate, where it was introduced by Sen. A. M. Akin Jr., of Paris, joined by Sens. J. P. Word of Meridian, Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo, D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur and Jim Bates of Edinburg.

Another bill asked by the teachers, one providing for five days sick leave a year cumulative to 30 days, was introduced by Rep. Wayne Gibbens of Breckenridge. Both bills are being sponsored by the Texas State Teachers Association.

BEEF IMPORT MEASURE -- A plan to discourage the purchase of imported beef by Texans was laid out by Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo.

His proposal would make it illegal -- subject to fines up to $500 and a jail sentence -- to sell imported meat, unless the grocer displays a sign 6 by 12 inches large, with the words, "Imported Met Sold Here," and labels packaged meat, "Product of...," stating country of origin.

COUNTY SCHOOL SUPPORT -- Texas Committee on State and Local Tax Policy recommended that the proportionate share of the Minumum Foundation Program which is borne by local taxing authorities in the Local Fund Assignment be increased by a total of some $19,000,000 over the next two years.

Committee stated that State government is providing $56 more per pupil for public school education than the national average, while local governments are providing $93 per pupil less than local governments of other states.

HOG CHOLERA ERADICATION A bill has been introduced which would permit the Texas Animal Health Commission to cooperate with the Animal Disease Eradication branch of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in an effort to do away with hog cholera in the state.

POLL TAX FIGHT RENEWED Bills which would put poll tax repeal on the Nov., 1966, ballot -- via constitutional amendments -- have been introduced in both houses of the Legislature.

AFB HEAD OPPOSES CHANGE C. H. DeVaney, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, told more than 70 legislators attending a bureau legislative conference in Austin that redistricting solely on the basis of population would seriously hurt state and national government.

DeVaney believes the Legislature should work toward an amendment to the U. S. Constitution which would override the Supreme Court decisions on reapportionment.

COLORED BRIDGES? -- Texas bridges may take on an Easter egg hue.

Texas Highway Department announces it is considering painting overpasses and other structures in different colors. It already is trying out a few shades of gray.

Theory is that pastel shades will help relieve monotony for drivers, thus making travel safer and more pleasant.

—OLD PHILOSOPHER—

Philosopher Finds Out About Viet Nam, But Wants A Better Reason For Pulling Out

Dear editar:

Speaking of Viet Nam, I don't even know which direction the place is from here and as for not knowing what's going on over there, I can hold my own with anybody, but after seeing the place mentioned at least half a dozen times in nearly every newspaper that has turned up out here on this Johnson grass farm for the past six months, it began to dawn on me that it must be important that we do something about it, although me and the State Department are a little hazy on what.

At any rate, I was surprised last night when I read that some official in Washington said the "situation in Viet Nam is a mess and we ought to pull out."

I do not understand this type of thinking. What I mean is, without going into the merits of whether we ought to pull out, stay, or deny we ever got in, I can't understand the reasoning of a man who says we ought to pull out because it's a mess and we don't know what to do with it.

You can see immediately what this type of thinking would do to this Johnson grass farm. In international language, it qualifies as a Viet Nam. It meets those terms exactly. It's a mess.

But the last thing I'd want to do is pull out. Just because the situation out here remains hopeless even after teams of agricultural experts have shown up and wracked their brains over the problems, is no reason why Washington shouldn't continue to put money in and hope for the best.

Or take the average big city. You'll find it's way in debt, the streets need patching, there's no place to park, crime is rampant, schools are crowded, there's not nearly enough tax money -- in fact, there are so many problems nobody knows the answers to you could very well say the situation is hopeless. You think the people there ought to pull out? After we country people have spent years culling them out and convincing them the city is the place to live?

We can pull out of Viet Nam if we want to, I guess, but we ought to find some reason other than that it's a mess. Why I know lots of parents whose kids are a.....but I'd better not go into that.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Children Must Be All School Age Named On Census

School Supt. Charles Zeigler reminds parents to be sure to contact his office if they have children of school age who have not been listed in the school census.

Those children who will be six years of age, but not more than eighteen years of age on Sept. 1, 1965, should be enumerated by being included on a census blank. Census blanks must be signed by a parent or guardian.

All school age children residing within the Cameron Independent School District should be listed on this census whether or not these children are attending Cameron Public Schools, Zeigler noted.

More Eligible For Social Security

Many people in this area are entitled to some social security retirement payments but are not getting them, Jack Calvert, social security district manager in Temple, advised today.

"It isn't necessary to stop working completely in order to get social security retirement benefits," Calvert said. "In fact, you can earn a good deal more than $1,200 and still get some checks."

Giving an example, he said that if a man and his wife are eligible for $150 a month in social security benefits, he can earn $2200 annually and still receive $1050 a year in social security checks.

New Electronic Machine To Speed "Zip" Postal Service

Postmaster Narvie L. Caperton said today he has received word from Postmaster General John A. Gronouski in Washington, D.C., that a big "breakthrough" has now been made on electronic machines to "Read" Zip-coded addresses on mail.

"The Postmaster General said he expects to begin installing these sophisticated new machines in major post offices starting in about a year," the Postmaster explained.

Mr. Caperton said each machine will be able to sort, as well as read, at the rate of 35,000 letters an hour.

The offices to get the address readers have not been announced, but the local postmaster said they will have significant effects on the mail in and out of each community regardless of whether it gets the new machines.

This is because they will speed incoming mail to smaller offices from major cities and step up the dispatch of mail deposited in smaller communities but which must be processed enroute at major mail massing points.

The postmaster emphasized, however, introduction of the "seeing eye" device next year does not mean ZIP Code isn't useful already.

"ZIP Code," he explained, "is important in mail handling under the system of mail processing already in use which will continue to be in use as the basic system at most points. These machines will be just another step -- in conjunction with the mechanical mail sorting machines we have developed -- to help keep pace with the growing volumes of mail. Neither will the machines endanger jobs -- they will only help us meet mail expansion with minimum manpower expansion."

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH THIS WEEK

Millions Leave Them There!

WITHIN HIS HOUSE

It is a notable fact that multitudes of the most thoughtful of men and women are aware of the necessity to worship something on the peril of being nothing. In the story of the Christian Faith it is worthy to note that besides the unlearned shephards at the first Christmas there were also wise men who traveled far to worship The Child, born to be King. These were not sentimental, wishful thinkers, anymore than was Paul the Apostle, who followed the unlearned disciples.

If we do not worship God we worship something less worthy. It may be a political ideology or an economic cult that promises to make us all rich. Wise men andwomen know that when we turn from the true God, we worship half or false gods.

When we attend the Church of our faith and hold fast to its teachings we are safe from following false gods. That is why it is just good, sound reasoning to worship God within the sacred confines of His House where it is easiest to reach him.

Graham Wins Contract For Treatment Plant

Graham Construction Company of Cameron was awarded the contract for a new water treatment plant to be built by the City of Rosebud.

Gillis Graham, owner of the construction company, submitted a low bid of $107,663. He also stated a 150 calendar day work period to complete the water tratment plant.

The Bering Company of Dallas was low bidder for a 200,000 gallon capacity overhead water storage tower. The company's bid was $44,775.

Rosebud citizens voted a $395,000 bond issue in October 1963 for the three-part water system improvement project. The first project was a ten-inch waterline from the Brazos River to the Rosebud City Lake. This was completed by DeAngelo Construction Company in July at a cost of $187,138.76.

The two contracts awarded last week should be completed in time to have the new system in service by summer. The new facilities will provide Rosebud with a half million gallon water storage within the city limits.

Graham's bid was in competition with 11 contractors. Five firms submitted bids for the water tower contract.

St. Monica Church, School Improvement Plans Viewed

Long-range plans for parish improvements and a review of the past five-year improvement program was announced by the Rev. John Geiser, pastor, at the annual St. Monica's Parish meeting held Sunday, Jan. 17, at Simon-George Hall.

Rev. Geiser pointed out that schools expenses are constantly rising and preparations for future expense must be considered. He said that an expansion program seems likely in 1965, to alleviate the crowded conditions at the parish school, St. Anthony's.

Proposed plans to install a 20-ton air conditioning unit in the church were announced.

In reviewing the past five years, Rev. Geiser said Simon-George Hall building loan has been paid, the rectory has been remodeled in a $22,000 project, the church has been heated, the school roof has been repaired, a large yard tractor for improving the grounds has been purchased and a tithing system has been established.

Immediate needs are a new school bus and extensive repair on a large piano in Simon-George Hall.

Three new members of the Parish Committee were elected. They are Herman Hoelscher, Clarence Hanel and Edmund Boedeker. Two remaining committee members are Walter Anderle and Steve Polzer.
